REFERENCE

On February 27, 1981, SA [REDACTED] conducted the following investigation concerning the appointee, Clayland Boyden Gray:

[REDACTED] Partner, Wilmer, Cutler and Pickering, 1666 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., advised that he has known the appointee since 1969 when he began working for the firm.

[REDACTED] stated that he and the appointee had worked on a few projects together and through these contacts it is his opinion that the appointee is a first rate lawyer. [REDACTED] added that he has known the appointee to always put out a first class legal product.

He described the appointee as being extremely knowledgeable, conscientious, bright and hardworking. He advised that the appointee worked an enormous number of hours, always striving for the best.

[REDACTED] stated that he has also known the appointee on a social basis over the years and considers him to be a good friend. He advised that he knows of nothing, derogatory concerning his character, associates, reputation or loyalty to the government. He highly recommended the appointee for a position of trust and confidence with the United States Government and considers the new administration extremely lucky to get him.

On March 2, 1981, SA [redacted] interviewed [redacted] Partner in the law firm Reid and Priest, 1111 19th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., who advised as followed:

[redacted] has known the appointee, Clayland Boyden Gray, both professionally and socially since 1969. The appointee is an upright, hardworking, loyal, patriotic, dependable, cooperative conscientious and discreet person with impeccable integrity. [redacted] and the appointee are business partners in a number of investments, and [redacted] has total trust in the appointee.

The appointee and [redacted] were associates working together at Wilmer, Cutler and Pickering for two to three years during which time [redacted] observed the appointee's work habits first hand. The appointee was one of the few people with enough loyalty to the firm to work for one of the more disagreeable partners for a long period of time at "enormous personal sacrifice for the good of the firm." He is exceptionally able and gave an outstanding performance at Wilmer, Cutler, and Pickering.

The appointee's loyalty also extends to his country. He does not take his patriotism lightly, in fact, he volunteered for the United States Marine Corps Reserve when it was quite unpopular to volunteer for military service. The appointee's character, associates, and reputation are above reproach and he is highly recommended for a position of trust and confidence.
